Miss Travis is shown wearing a cream-colored rajah silk skirt and scarf. Her hat has a swagger brim and the gloves match the outfit.

Yaphank, L. I., for the second summer festival of the German American Bund, heard Walter Kappe, secretary of the organization, declare that the Governor would not be "supported by Germans in New York State because he is a Jew."

Trees, fences and posts around the camp bore signs "Gentiles awake!" Germans were forbidden to speak English during the festival. While storm troopers goose-stepped across the field to the tune of German martial music, the Germans raised their arms frequently

Thirty-Two Nations To Be Represented

GENEVA (Spl.)—With the opening of the World Jewish Congress set for tomorrow, Saturday, Aug. 8, delegates from more than thirty-two countries were beginning to arrive here to take part in the deliberations which are expected to last eight days.

A total of 269 duly elected delegates are expected to take part in the discussions, but it is believed that many times that number will be present to witness the proceedings.

According to an agenda, announced last week, for the opening session there will be an address by Dr. Nahum Goldmann on the general Jewish situation, an oration by Dr. Stephen S. Wise on the German Jewish situation, and a review of Jewish economic problems by Jacob Lestchinsky. A. Efroyken will discuss Jewish relief at the same meeting.

The sessions will be held in the League of Nations Assembly Hall in the Batiment Electoral.

The Congress will deal with problems affecting immigration, the rebuilding of Palestine, and the organization of the World Jewish Congress.

Officials Fawn To Nazi Regime

BERLIN (Spl.)—Although the American athletes participating in the Olympics are taking the Nazi show with a grain of salt, even to protesting against the too-frequent use of the Heil Hitler, officials of the American Olympic Committee are going out of their way to show the appreciation of the United States for the splendid Nazi regime.

Following the lead of the American team, the British team omitted the extension of the arm salute as used in past years and turned their eyes to the right in the only official recognition of the Nazi regime in the opening parade.

Brundage, shown by the arrow, was named to replace Mr. Jahncke, who opposed U. S. participation, on the World Olympic Committee. At the opening of the Games, Mr. Brundage, who was seated below Hitler, waved to the chancellor, and received a hearty recognition in return.

WIN FOR 5TH TIME

CLEVELAND, O. (Spl.)—Permanent possession of the Fraternity Scholarship Award plaque, given by the Alumni Association, was secured by Pi Sigma Phi, Jewish social fraternity, at Case School of Applied Science, with the announcement that the group had won high honors for the fifth straight time.

RABBI NAMED CHAPLAIN

MILAN, Mich. (Spl.)—The thirty Jewish prisoners of the 500 inmates of the Federal Detention Farm here now have a chaplain, Rabbi L. M. Belker, educational director of the Jewish Community Center of Detroit. He will conduct services monthly and on holidays.

INVITATION SHUNNED

PERTH, Australia (Spl.)—A welcome to Jews to join the Nazi Party of Australia has been turned down by Rabbi David I. Freeman, head of the Jewish community here.

Declaring that "definitely the movement is not aimed at Jews, Catholics or Freemasons," W. G. Tracey, leader of Western Australian Nazis, stated that "Jews will be welcome."

New Petition Against German Persecution Futile

Bulwarked by a 57-page annex, a petition prepared jointly by nine organizations, Jewish and non-Jewish, has been presented to the League of Nations with the hope, futile as it is, that international action be taken on behalf of groups persecuted by the German Government.

Following on the Ethiopian fiasco, the new petition, even to its signers, must seem to have little chance of securing the serious consideration of the nations with whom rest real action in a question involving the disciplining of a nation as powerful as Germany, despite the reported assurance that a European nation has promised to present the matter forcefully before the League. Evidence of this futility is seen in a chapter of the annex to the petition which describes the efforts already made by the League when Germany was admittedly a weak nation to secure exactly the same action as is contemplated by the new petition. In 1933 the League Council ineffectually decided that the system of discriminatory legislation against "non-Aryans" was a violation of the German obligations in Upper Silesia, and in the fall of 1933 the Assembly of the League, in raising the question of persecution in Germany, reaffirmed its recommendations of 1922 which urged that countries not bound by Minorities Treaties should nevertheless observe their standard in treatment of their minorities.

Despite, however, the unfortunate reversion of the League of Nations to the historical "might is right" basis, the petition is certainly a move in the right direction. Small as it is, the petition still has that one chance in a thousand of arousing the powerful members of the League, whose patience fortunately in this case, has already been strained by the Nazi regime. Then, too, the petition will rivet once again attention of the public on the hapless plight of German minorities. It must also be taken into consideration that the petition is the most thoroughly documented protest against German persecution yet prepared. Beginning with a chapter dealing with the "Precedents for International Action to Safeguard Human Rights," the petition continues with the "International Legal Aspects" of the Nazi policies, and concludes finally with a survey of the reasons for the need for further action.

By this time it must be clear to every nation except Germany herself that the treatment of minorities in Germany is no longer a question of who is right or wrong, but one of whether the persons being denied their freedom and privileges are powerful enough in their international affiliations to secure a respectful remonstrance against their injury, leading to a readjustment. If, then, it is admitted that the Nazis have violated international law by 1.—The forced emigration from Germany of thousands of individuals and their imposition upon the territory of neighboring states; 2.—The denationalization of and refusal to accord full diplomatic protection to thousands of individuals who have thereby been cast stateless upon other countries; and 3.—The attempt to exercise extraterritorial criminal jurisdiction which has taken the form of acts of violence and terrorism in the territory of neighboring states; and if the League were actually an instrument for the safeguarding of the observance of international law as it should be, who would doubt the ability of England and France to secure an amelioration of the plight of German minorities. But in the same trend, who is idealistic enough to believe that these two nations would be willing to risk an international conflict to safeguard the rights of these individuals, especially since they are to a large extent, Jews.

Clear Defense Of Jewish Position In Holy Land

To the Editor:

Under the caption "Storm Over Palestine" Mr. H. N. Brailsford in the July 1 issue of the New Republic gave the most logical and cogent answer to the doubts which recently have been harassing liberals concerning the Jewish status in Palestine.

Mr. Brailsford is regarded as England's premier publicist. He is an outstanding Socialist and a ranking member of the British Labor Party. He has visited the Holy Land many times and has made a first hand study on the spot.

Concerning the economic upbuilding of Palestine, Mr. Brailsford has this to say: "There is no valid economic ground for Arab opposition. On the contrary, the Arabs are striking against prosperity. Palestine was in 1919 one of the most backward and poverty-stricken regions of the East. The Jews, bringing capital and science, made it even in the years of slump, the one corner of our planet, outside of Soviet Russia, that thrives and progresses. They brought electricity; they introduced flourishing industries where industry was unknown; they taught such Arabs as would learn their own technique of irrigation and made available the new breeds of plants and animals perfected by their research. They drained the marshes and fought malaria. Out of their taxes the British administration has built roads, railways and harbors and provided for the Arabs modern schools and hospitals. Unemployment is virtually unknown and Arab labor flocks in from Syria and Egypt to enjoy wages that stand at three times the level of those countries."

About the charge that in order to bring prosperity into the country the Jews have deprived the Arabs of their own land? To this Mr. Brailsford replies: "The reader may recollect Arab propaganda to the effect that the Jews are driving the Arab peasants off the land. Broadly, this charge is untrue. The mass of the Jewish immigration goes into industry and not onto the land. The really distinguished part of the Jewish achievement is that sand dunes and marshes, uninhabited and untitled, have been converted by electric pumps into orange groves and wheat fields. In other cases, the Jews, by purchasing part of an ill utilized Arab estate, provided the owner with capital which enabled him to irrigate the rest, and so to furnish a better living for a much larger number of Arabs than the land had formerly nourished. One must have seen the miracles that Jewish intelligence and devotion have wrought, to understand what this process means. The fact is that the coming of the Jews has started a general development from dry farming and domestic economy by the methods of the Bronze Age, to scientific agriculture by irrigation for export. This barren land can sustain a considerably larger population both of Arabs and Jews, and on its fringes there is ample room in the still undeveloped Trans-Jordanian." Here is as complete an answer as anyone could ask for.

Mr. Brailsford also has a reply to the main question which troubles many people, namely, that of the Jewish right to Palestine. Those people are asking the following question: "We admit that the Jews have benefited the Arabs and that the Jewish immigration has made Palestine prosperous; we admit that the Jewish enterprise has contributed enormously

Asks Ouster For Detective

Dickstein Shows How Keyes Attempted To Organize Christians Against Jews For Germany

NEW YORK (Spl.)—Secretary of State Edward J. Flynn had under consideration a letter from Representative Samuel Dickstein, of New York, demanding the revocation of a license as a private detective to Harold C. Keyes, former Secret Service operative, who he charged was attempting to foment ill will between Jew and Gentile in the United States.

Representative Dickstein quoted from a letter Keyes had written to the German Government suggesting he be employed to create an alignment between Jew and Christian in this country. Keyes' letter read in part:

"In political suffrage the Jew is outnumbered by the Christians...."

Beats Champion

Reuben Fine Victor In Master
Tourney of World

ZANDVOORT, The Netherlands (Spl.)—With the championship of the international chess masters' tournament his, Reuben Fine, of New York, youngest of the twelve men who competed, was feted here at a dinner which closed the congress of the group. Fine defeated Max Euwe, of Amsterdam, who was runner-up, and ten other high calibre players. Euwe is generally recognized as the world's champion.

Hodderwise een Heaven dere's no place for you.

What do you min, you keenot pay? Lookit de clothes you are wearink Do you want Hitler to come any day

I WUN'T HEV A SPOT TO HISS IN.

But the Christians are not organized nor sufficiently class and race conscious to bestir themselves to stop Jewish encroachments. Leadership is needed badly by our Christian population. We American Christians hate and fear the Jew as much as you do in Germany. We find them just as much a menace as you Germans.... But we have been too lazy or indifferent to check the Jew in our midst.

"It is my contention that Germany has been but half-hearted in its attempts through publicity to crystallize a real opposition to the Jew in America. At heart we in this country are with German aims and ambitions as far as checking the onward march of Jews. The time is ripe right now for a real campaign to 'crystallize' sentiment here. But the publicity work should be in the hands of native Americans... with the secret financial support of German interests.

"The organization I suggest should employ native-born American Christians. The type of men I would use in such an organization would be chosen for their tactfulness and courage... their knowledge of American law... and city ordinances pertaining to attacks on friendly nations. Through the collection of real evidence against these groups... and the proper presentation of evidence to our courts not even a Jewish judge would dare ignore a complaint."

Commenting on Keyes' letter, Dickstein wrote:

"Apparently this program was very much to the liking of the German masters to whom it was submitted, and in a letter to Mr. Keyes addressed from 1,439 Massachusetts Avenue, Washington, D. C., and signed by Richard Paulig, secretary of the German Embassy, the following statement appears:

"Captain Drexel, to whom I am writing today, is looking forward to your getting in touch with him over the telephone, and will certainly be glad to see you at a time

Marlene Dietrich Says She'll Never Go Back

LONDON (Spl.)—Declaring she planned "never to go back to Germany," Marlene Dietrich, film star, arrived here from Paris with her husband. When asked "Don't you like the current Germany?" she replied: "They don't like me."

Miss Dietrich asserted that she was "Aryan." The Reich has banned most of her films.

Third Printing For "Jews of Germany"

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (Spl.)—The Jewish Publication Society of America announces the third printing of Marvin Lowenthal's "The Jews of Germany." Published on June 18th, the book has already had two large printings.

The book retails for $2.75 and is available as one of the three books which members of the Jewish Publication Society of America receive for the minimum annual dues of $5.00. Full particulars on the membership plan can be obtained by writing to this paper. It also may be purchased through this paper's Postal Library, or loaned for 5c per day from this paper's lending library.

AMERICANS GREET HITLER

BERLIN (Spl.)—That German Americans have "reawakened to the German people and their Fuehrer," was told to Adolph Hitler by Friedrich Huhn, of Detroit, who led a deputation representing the German American League in a visit to Hitler here. After donating $2,300 to the winter relief work in Germany, Kuhn and his cohorts placed wreaths at the war memorial and on Horst Wessel's grave.

Hitler was presented the signatures of 6,000 league members, that may then be agreed upon. I sent to Captain Drexel the memorandum with enclosures which you kindly forwarded to me on Sept. 21st."

People and places

By DOUG.
BROWN

As the days pass into weeks and the weeks into months, we realize that the summer is fast slipping away and that soon once again it will be fall with the succeeding winter months . . . as time moves on we look forward to the coming events with a great deal of interest, but upon arriving at them we realize that the expression, "anticipation is greater than realization" is verily the truth . . . first it's Decoration Day, then the Fourth of July, Labor Day and Thanksgiving following, each having its own particular significance, but most important of all as a time to be looked forward to and planned for as a holiday . . . a day away from one's usual routine of work, a day to be spent in resting, playing or indulging in whatever that particular holiday has to offer in the way of diversion . . . to me right now, Aug. 10, appears as such a day . . . you're probably wondering what is to happen on this day . . . nothing of importance to you, but to me a day of utmost interest, for this is the day I start on my vacation . . . and believe you me, it's a much needed one . . . I will continue to fill this column the while with people and places I see and meet and there is a great possibility that you will recognize the places and the individuals for, after all, here and there is not so far apart and many of us have mutual friends in surrounding cities and resorts . . . when I return I'll again pick up the threads and let you know what's going on in this drab, uninteresting village . . . or should I say this seething, progressive metropolis . . . oh, yes, I haven't told you where I was going . . . well, you watch this column and see where it comes from. . . .

Bouquet

Now for our weekly bouquet of flowers to an outstanding personality in our Jewish community . . . as you know, these flowers each week have been awarded to a local Jewish person whose name we all know and who, because of some particular endeavor has risen above the crowd to reflect honor upon himself and our community . . . the list, if you will recall, includes many of our most prominent people whose name appeared herein for their own particular characteristic achievements . . . now to this list of notables I have another name to add . . . a man who by the very force of his personality and character has gone further politically in a short time than any other Jewish person whom I can think of in this city or state, for that matter . . . I refer to Senator Jacob Weiss . . . you all know him and recognize his name . . . for it is one that is respected and looked up to all over this state for the power and influence it bears . . . one cannot help but respect a man who, as a total stranger (more or less) comes into a Jewish community and makes as rapid an advance as has Senator Weiss . . . besides being a Jewish senator, of which there are not too many in this country—Jake, as most of us know him, is also a very successful lawyer . . . the writer has known him for as many years as he has been here and knows that he is as good a Jew as he is a statesman, for which characteristic he carries not only my respect but also that of all the rest of our people . . . during his term in office, more Jewish people here have been successful in making connections and securing position in our city, county and state offices than ever before in the history of our local government, and this can only be attributed to the efforts and help rendered by our Jewish senator . . . I know this as a matter of fact and I believe our entire Jewish community should be grateful for his assistance . . . Senator Weiss has held executive offices in the Beth El Temple, Jewish Welfare Fund and other Jewish and non-Jewish organizations . . . it is not difficult to prophesy that Jake will travel further yet and that we will see and hear a great deal more about him . . . the Post joins me in congratulating you, Senator Weiss, and wishing you well . . . to you for this week go the honor and flowers. . . .

Only 1 More

Since I am going away for the next few weeks it will be possible for me to name only one more notable to receive the flowers before I leave . . . and then I will temporarily discontinue this phase of my column until I return . . . there are many, many more here who are entitled to and are deserving of this honor and when I get back I hope to resume this most interesting part of this column . . . so watch my article for next week will be the last of the flowers until I return. . . .

Kline-Stauber

The marriage of Miss Anna Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Meyer Weinstein, of Toledo, O., and Frederick I. Stauber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stauber, 4175 Broadway, Indianapolis, will be held in Toledo on Sunday, August 16th.

Miss Belle Kline, of Indianapolis, a cousin of the bride-to-be, is to be a bridesmaid, and another cousin, Miss Helen Kline will sing. Edward Stauber, brother of the groom, will be best man.

Returns From Europe

Miss Charlotte Sudranski, niece of Miss Gertrude Feibleman, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Harry B. Smith, and Mr. Smith in Lowell, Mass., before returning to this city. In June Miss Sudranski attended the International Conference on Social Work, in London, England. She has been travelling in Great Britain and France, and arrived at Quebec, Canada, last week on the Empress of Britain.

Formal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Seessel and Mr. and Mrs. Otto A. Weil entertained with a formal dinner Sunday, in honor of Mrs. Neva Styers, 838 North DeQuincy Street, and her father, D. A. Adams, of Berkeley, Cal., who has been visiting in this city for the first time in more than twenty-five years.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Farber announce the birth of a son last week in Methodist Hospital.

Picnic

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Hebrew Congregation will hold the annual picnic for members on Wednesday, August 19, in Garfield Park. All members of the organization are asked to attend.

Miss Peggy Marx, Muncie, is visiting Mrs. Leo Netzorg and her sons Leo, Bob and Sidney Netzorg. Mrs. I. B. Lipton, of Leesburg, Fla., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schildmeier. Mrs. Lipton is the former Marian Schildmeier.

Mr. and Mrs. David Rosenberg, 1009 Broadway, have returned to the city after spending a month in

New York City and Washington, D. C.

Nearly 500 persons attended the annual picnic of the Knesses Israel Congregation Sunday in Columbia Park. Various prizes were awarded, games and contests held, and dancing was on the program. Samuel Hoffman was chairman for the outing.

Federal Players

"One Night at Brenda's," a three-act comedy drama by a new Indianapolis author, Miles Tierman, well known in newspaper circles, and who is assistant city editor of The Indianapolis Star, will be given its first presentation on any stage by the Federal Players at Keith's Theatre the week commencing next Monday night.

Strictly modern in every respect "One Night at Brenda's" unfolds a highly original story packed with dramatic possibilities. It has to do with a group of friends who, during their high school days, pledged to meet in reunion one night each year.

The Federal Players cast, headed by Ned Le Fevre, Betty Anne Brown, Alice Arnold, Jack Duval and other company favorites will include several new members who will make their initial bow to Indianapolis theatregoers in this production. There will be the usual matinee on Wednesday starting at 2:15 o'clock.

Rates Reduced

The seventh rate reduction in ten years affecting interstate long distance calls was filed July 31 by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company with the Federal Communications Commission to take effect September 1, 1936. The Indiana Bell Telephone Company also filed today with the Indiana Public Service Commission similar changes effective on long distance calls which originate and terminate within the state.

This reduction, as was the previous one in January, is made possible by the present upward trend in long distance usage and by the operating results from the Bell System's policy of continuous development and research to assure the public the maximum service at the lowest cost consistent with the financial safety of the business. During the ten years the station-to-station rate from New York to San Francisco has come down from $16.50 to $7.50 and the New York-Chicago rate from $4.65 to $2.50.

Savings to long distance users from this latest reduction, including reductions to be made by associated companies of the Bell System, will amount to more than $7,350,000 a year.

Letters

Mr. Douglas D. Brown, Indianapolis, Ind.

My dear Mr. Brown:

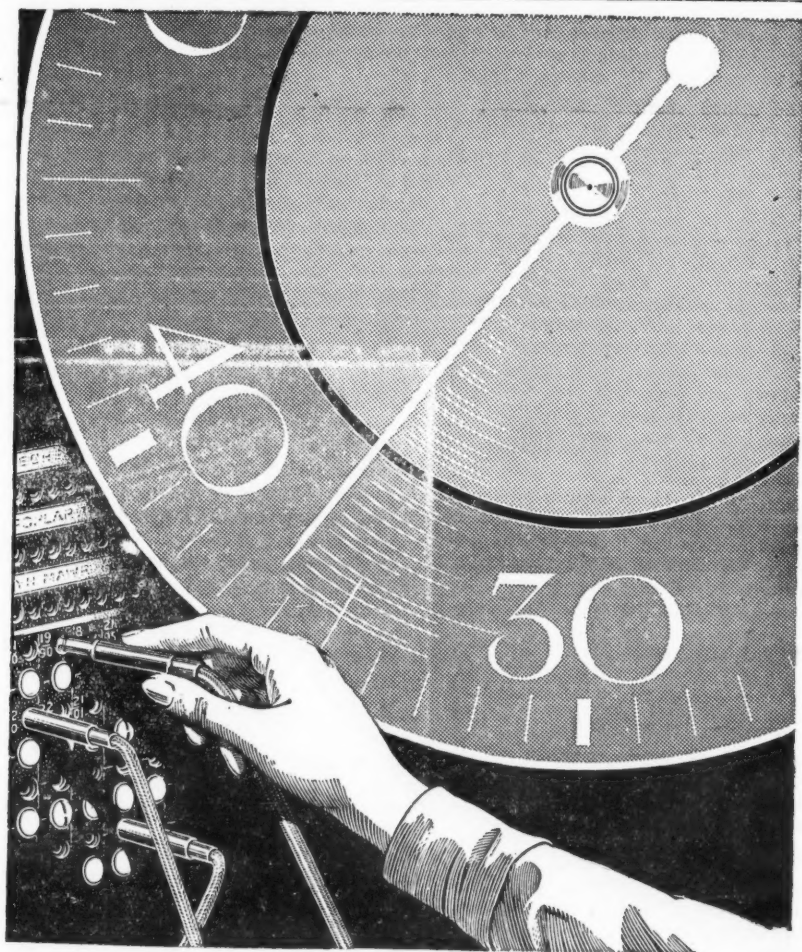

My apparent tardiness in writing you is due to my absence from the city. You were far too generous in your article and the flowers. I wish I could rightfully believe I was deserving of them. Accept my sincere thanks nevertheless. With best wishes for your continued success, I remain

Very cordially yours,
LOUIS J. BORINSTEIN.

Douglas D. Brown,

I wish to thank you very much for the beautiful roses as well as the kind words mentioned in your paper.

Sincerely,
BESS ROBBINS.

CANTOR TELLS THREAT AT PELLEY PROTEST MEET

Watched By Bodyguard At All Time

Los Angeles (Spl.)—With Eddie Cantor, film star, as a speaker at a mass meeting at the Wilshire Ebell Theater, attended by 1,100 persons, unanimously demanded the investigation of activities of William Dudley Pelley, former head of the Silver Shirts and now leader of the so-called Christian Party.

Cantor asserted that Christians and Jews should work side by side against the Nazi terror, declaring that "Nazism is directed not only against the Jews, but also against the freedom of everyone."

The film star said that he and his family have received so many threats from Los Angeles Nazis that he is now being accompanied by a bodyguard wherever he goes.

Prince Hubertus and Princess Helga von Loewenstein, self-imposed exiles from Germany, also appeared on the program.

"The woman in the new Germany—not the Jewish woman, not the Catholic woman, nor the woman in any minority group, but the Nazi woman herself—has been deprived of every privilege she once had," the princes told the crowd.

The prince charged that Hitler was aiming directly at war, declaring that present tactics would bring on a war that would be "the end of civilization" within a year or two.

The meeting was under sponsorship of the Hollywood League Against Nazism. Four persons reported on a meeting last Saturday night at the German House, at which Pelley had declared "The time has come for an American Hitler and a pogrom!"

The resolution demanded "immediate and sweeping investigation" of "these criminally subversive tactics which incite to riot, murder and crime." The resolution were addressed to President Roosevelt, Attorney General Cummings and Governor Merriam of California.

M. Annenberg Buys Inquirer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (Spl.)—Control of The Philadelphia Inquirer Tuesday passed into the hands of Moses L. Annenberg, Jewish publisher, who purchased the newspaper property for $15,000,000.

Mr. Annenberg, a former Hearst executive, denied reports that William Randolph Hearst was in any way connected with the present transaction.

Also published by Mr. Annenberg are The Morning Telegraph, sporting and theatrical publication issued in New York, The Miami Tribune, The Daily Racing Form, Radio Guide, and Screen Guide.

PAYS DUES FOR 99

PATERSON, N. J. (Spl.)—In his speech of acceptance of the honorary presidency of the Boosters Club of the local "Y" for the fifth year, Harry B. Haines paid his dues of $1 and then gave $99 more to pay the dues of as many more members who couldn't afford to be boosters.

Lindbergh Recieved In Germany

New York Jewish leaders took Col. Lindbergh's visit to Germany with mixed feelings. The air ace, who is now in Copenhagen for a demonstration of his "mechanical heart" invention, was received with acclamation by Nazi officials, but his scheduled audience with Hitler never took place for some reason. Col. Lindbergh is shown at Staaken Airport, Berlin, with Col. Smith, American military attache.

Frankfurter Attacked By Anti-Semitic Pamphlet

CHICAGO (Spl.) — Editors of newspapers throughout the nation have been mailed without cost an elaborate pamphlet, viciously maligning Felix Frankfurter, Harvard law professor, and basing its attack on Phineas J. Biron's words in his syndicated column in The Sentinel, Anglo-Jewish publication, that Frankfurter is slated for a position on the Supreme Court.

The words taken from The Sentinel and quoted on the frontispiece of the pamphlet, declare: "To Frankfurter, by the way, will go the first vacancy on the United States Supreme Court, provided that this vacancy occurs as the result of the resignation of Justice Brandeis."

Subtly intertwining Frankfurter with every alleged menace to the government, the pamphlet, which was authored by the American Vigilante Intelligence Federation, 435 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, says:

"In passing, let us note that his antecedents and cultural background have been almost wholly international and European. His patronym suggests that his immediate ancestry came from the Judengasse in Frankfurt-am-Main, the ghetto which produced Amschel Mayer, who founded the banking house of Rothschild, and the late Jacob Schiff, of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, who is reputed to have financed the Bolshevik Revolution of Lenin and Trotsky."

At another point the pamphlet declared:

"The period immediately after the Armistice, found him definitely acting the role of internationalist, representing the Zionist organization before the Peace Conference in Paris, 1919, urging the establishment of a home land for the Jews in Palestine, and 'minority representation' in all governments signatory to the Versailles treaty."

Documented to make its declarations appear as authoritative as possible, the pamphlet is one of the finest specimens of subtle anti-Semitic propaganda yet published. In its foreword, the brochure sets down as one of the objects and purposes of the Vigilantes, "To combat and counteract the insidious work of anti-American propagandists, including those who have invaded American shores in order to belittle the patriotic efforts of American heroes and to tarnish their fair name."

Father Finds 2 Daughters After Twenty-Nine Years

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Spl.)—Twenty-nine years ago, Wolf Sperber of Ostrow-Brizdowice, Poland, bade farewell to his two little girls Miriam aged 13, and Feiga 9. That was the last he has ever seen or heard from them.

Yesterday, after many years of anxious search, contact was again established between father and daughters. The scene of the spiritual reunion was enacted at 425 Lafayette Street, the New York headquarters of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society—HIAS.

Jews were emigrating from Russian-Poland in 1907—the period following the collapse of the first Russian revolution. Sperber entrusted his two little daughters to friends who were then preparing

Jew Seeks High State Position

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (Spl.)—Samuel M. Levine, of this city, a member of the State Senate, and one of the leading figures in the state, is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor in the primary Tuesday, August 11. He is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Senator Levine, who received his elementary education in Arkansas, graduated from Tulane University in 1911. He secured his master of arts degree from Columbia in 1912 and his legal degree from Columbia in 1913. For twenty-three years he has practiced law, and has been identified with numerous civic activities. He has served as president of the Jefferson County Bar, Potentate of the Shriners, Master of the Masonic Lodge, Chancellor Commander of the Knights of Pythias and the first commander of the American Legion Post at Pine Bluff.

During the World War, he served for nineteen months and was assigned to the 346th Infantry of the 87th Division. His talent and ability won him the appointment of Regimental Judge Advocate, Regimental Grenade Instructor and an extremely responsible position of Member of the Board of Officers.

Elected to the House of the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas in 1930, Senator Levine was elevated to the Senate in 1932 where he has served since. His record in the State Senate was marked by his courageous voting menace," a printed circular bearing the address P. O. Box 491, Chicago, has been distributed by mail throughout the nation.

The new appeal to racial hatred bore a Minneapolis postmark. For insignia, the circulars bore a spread-eagle just over a Nazi swastika. The burden of its attack, with obvious political basis, was the charge that this country is "ruled by crooked politicians, grafters and racketeers of all kinds" who have "proved their unfitness for public office by permitting a subversive and un-American racial minority, the Jews, to build what actually amounts to an economic dictatorship over the unsuspecting Gentiles."

to leave for the distant shores of the United States, in the hope of being able to join them soon. Obstacles arose. Time passed quickly. The little girls grew to womanhood; married, and assumed the names of their husbands. Letters came back undelivered: "Addressee unknown."

The World War came and went, to be followed by severe restrictions on immigration. Finally, the old father somehow found his way to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where the thought of his lost daughters gave him no rest. On May 6th, Mr. Sperber presented his problem to the Buenos Aires office of the HIAS-ICA Emigration Association. The request was transmitted to the New York HIAS, which discov-

2nd Threat Is Ignored

SEATTLE, Wash. (Spl.)—Despite receipt of a second letter warning him to desist from his expose of anti-Semitic activities of the Christian Party, whose head is William Dudley Pelley, Herman A. Horowitz, editor and publisher of The Transcript, of this city, declared that he "will continue to throw the revealing spotlight into the sinister, under-cover, un-American activities of these little would-be Hitlers."

Written in hand-lettered words on a single sheet of white paper, which can be traced by the watermark "Oronican, U. S. A., stamped on it," the second "poison pen" letter was addressed, like the first, to Herman A. Horowitz, editor of The Transcript.

Mailed in Seattle at 7 p. m. Sunday, the threatening message read:

"To the Chosen of God!"

"Greetings—We are profoundly interested in your not being intimidated, neither are we.

"Your race crucified the Christian's Christ and now are trying to crucify us.

"We do not want a pogrom, therefore the warning. You deliberately invite it.

"You will have no trouble locating us unless you obey our warning in next issue of your Communist organ. Your address will be (Continued on next page) ered that little Feiga is now Mrs. Winter of 101 Lenox Road, Brooklyn, the mother of four children; her sister Miriam, also married, is the mother of two children.

Tears of happiness rolled down their cheeks as they discovered after twenty-nine years of anxious thoughts, that their father is alive and well, doing all in his power to re-establish contact with them.

Use of German Dishes At Jewish Banquet Brings Protest Fromirate Guest

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (Spl.)—Guests at a testimonial dinner at the Biltmore Hotel here in honor of Dr. Ilie Berger were startled when Alter Boyman rose from his seat and criticized the serving of food on dishes "made by the madman Hitler."

Mr. Boyman's ire was aroused when he happened to turn over one of the plates at the dinner. On the reverse side he saw the crest of a Black Knight and the inscription, "Made in Bavaria, Germany, expressly for the Providence Biltmore, 1935."

"This question of a boycott of German-made goods is not merely a Jewish question," the angry guest shouted. "The boycott of Hitler is necessary to preserve the civilized world, and I have had my banquet ruined by the fact that I had to eat from dishes made in a country where they have been stamping out civilization."

Resignation Result Of Shul Tiff

PATERSON, N. J. (Spl.)—H. Kluger, prominent member of the United Brotherhood Congregation here, resigned his membership in a letter to Daniel Dunkleman, president, severely censuring his action in locking several women members out of the meeting rooms last winter and in employing an attorney in an attempt to collect Mr. Kluger's dues.

Mr. Kluger, a prominent Paterson business man, is one of the synagogue's charter members.

In part, Mr. Kluger's letter said: "I felt that you would reconsider the shameful act which you perpetrated when, on a cold winter night, you placed a chain and padlock across the gates of the synagogue, stationed two police officers there, and refused admittance to my wife, who had paid $200 for her seat and was entitled to admission, as were the wives of other members."

"These women worked hard and faithfully for the sole benefit of the United Brotherhood Congregation, as you well know, and your action had as its direct result, the immediate financial repercussions that caused you to find it necessary to collect my dues through the agency of an attorney and with the threat of a suit in the court of law."

Power Increased

DEARBORN, Mich. (Spl.)—Spinning a Ford V-8 steering wheel, Henry Ford at 10:30 a. m. today started the steam flowing through a new turbine generator that makes the giant power house of the Rouge plant the largest high-pressure steam generating installation in the world. A few seconds later a Ford V-8 emblem carrying an American flag began turning slowly on top of the huge turbine—the signal that the new 110,000 kilowatt was "on the line." The new equipment which includes a 1400 pound pressure boiler increases generating capacity from 200,000 to 326,000 horsepower.

Increased power demands resulting from the company's $37,000,000 expansion and modernization program at the Rouge plant made necessary the additional power capacity. The new generating equipment represents an investment of about $4,600,000.

Setting another record in another respect, the new installation provides for the operation of the new boiler at the highest temperature ever achieved in a large industrial plant in this country. The boiler will provide steam at 900 degrees Fahrenheit, supplying 900,000 pounds an hour at that temperature. This achievement greatly increases efficiency, according to engineers

Mr. Boyman attended the banquet as president of the Poale Zion. The dinner was in honor of Dr. Berger's sailing for Europe to attend the World Jewish Congress.

Other guests registered complaints with the hotel management after the incident. It was generally known, observers say, that German-made plates were used at the Zionist convention here several weeks ago.

SECOND THREAT

"It happened in France, Russia and Spain. Brother Oriental, it shall not happen in America! God pity you."

"Two thousand have read your last issue, ten thousand will read your next."

"This is 'our last play.' You move next."

"We are ready and anxious. We leave American Judahs' fa(te?) with you. May God guide you."

Because it was sent through the mails, Postal Inspector J. S. Senon was called in on the case. He is already investigating a previous threatening letter, mailed from Tacoma.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

(Continued from Page 2) to the upbuilding of the Holy Land which was neglected for so many generations. But the question still remains, suppose the Arabs prefer to get along without the benefits which the Jews bestow upon them? Have they no right to do with their country as they please, including shutting their doors to the Jews?" To this query Mr. Brailsford has this forthright answer: "A backward race has no right to monopolize land of which it makes no adequate use. Mankind, when it is organized must have the right to override tribal nationalism, if in the process it attains to the welfare of the tribe whose ignorant will it overrules. To the Jews mankind owed this reparation, and Hitler has increased our already heavy obligation. It is proper that somewhere on this earth this race should have its cultural center—a university built among orange groves and wheat fields tilled by its own hands. It is right that refuge should be found in the land they love for some hundreds of thousands of fugitives from Polish and German intolerance."

Federation in Detroit Gets Big Bequest

DETROIT (Spl.)—Completion of important community projects by the United Jewish Charities was made possible this week by the largest individual bequest ever made to a Jewish cause here, a gift estimated to be more than $100,000 from the estate of Miss Carrie Sittig Cohen, who died here, July 13.

Miss Cohen, member of a pioneer Detroit family, bequeathed the bulk of her estate to the charitable fund.

The will, which includes a number of minor bequests to relatives and to Miss Marie S. Walters, who had been employed a number of years by Miss Cohen, provides for the remainder of the estate to be used by the United Jewish Charities "either to erect a building or some necessary addition to a building they already have." It provides that this building in addition be called the "Simon Cohen Family Building," to be a memorial for Miss Cohen's father and mother, her two brothers and herself.

Should the estate not be large enough to erect a "suitable" building, the will provides that the executors provide five small memorials, each bearing the name of one member of the family.

Fred M. Butzel, vice president of the charitable organization, said Miss Cohen's will set a new precedent in contributions to important Jewish causes.
